

Obeying Rules

It might feel that everywhere you go there are signs telling you what you can and cannot do. Most of these signs are there for your safety, safety of others or to protect our earth.

What do you think could happen if you go against the rules on the signs below?

Five empty rectangular boxes for writing answers, each connected to a rule on the sign by a green arrow.

Two empty rectangular boxes for writing answers, each connected to the sign by a green arrow.

Two empty rectangular boxes for writing answers, each connected to the sign by a green arrow.

